Negro History Society Of Buffalo

REV. RICHARD FORD SPOKE

Rev. Richard Ford, of the Westminster Community House, spoke Sunday, July 9, 1967 at the meeting of the Negro History Society of Buffalo. "The Role of the Negro Church in the Civil Rights Movement" was the topic. Rev. Ford discussed the church as an institution, its effect upon society, the Negro affiliated church schools, the new breed of ministers, the two sides of the church--Protestant theology of Heaven and Hell vs. church becoming involved in secular world, and the revamping of the visual presentation of the church. One of the highlights of the discussion was Rev. Ford's statement that there is a continuing growth in man's human development. We have seen glimpses of this throughout history. Jesus Christ, Ghandi, and Mohammed are outstanding examples of what the Supreme Being wants man to be.

There were many other ideas brought out during the course of group discussions: 1) Historically, the white church championed the abolition of slavery. 2) It was not until the invention of the cotton gin, which broadened the South's economic base, that a need for more slaves was evident. The church played a major role during this period in biblically justifying slavery. 3) After reconstruction, the white church played an important role in educating the Negro. In the main these were Negro ministers who acted as mediators between the white and Negro communities. 4) Today there is no need for black ministers to function in this capacity. The general level of Negro education is rising. Negro church-related schools in the southeast are playing a tremendous role in the task of educating our Negro youth. 5) White images are no longer acceptable to black people. 6) Up until recent years the church was the only institution in the black community that was owned and operated by black people. 7) The Negro church must reorganize to meet the current needs of the Negro community. 8) There is developing within the country a "new breed" of ministers, such as Benjamin E. Mays and Martin Luther King, who are moving to involve the church in social action, solving urban problems, political unity, and economic cooperation.

Eligibility for membership in the Negro History Society of Buffalo is available to any person who attends three consecutive meetings out of four and who expresses a desire to join. The meetings are held every Sunday from two to four o'clock at 1314 Jefferson Avenue--upstairs over C & B Men's Shop.

OPEN LETTER TO THE COMMUNITY

I, John Young, a businessman of the Cold Spring community, am very interested in bettering our community.

This is why most recent enterprise, the Soul Supermarket at 293 E. Ferry St., across from the Kaufman Bakery, which is being donated for the purpose of help building the first community owned recreational center in the Cold Spring area.

The total weekly profits from the "Soul Supermarket" will be turned over to help build this center, which will consist of a skating rink, bowling alley, gymnasium, pool room, snack bar, and many, many more facilities to help keep our young people properly occupied.

I therefore solicit the support of the community in helping to reach the goal of $250,000.00 needed to finance this very needed center.

Please keep in mind that every dollar you spend at the "Soul Supermarket" will be donated to the center. Also meats and vegetables will be of the freshest and best quality and the prices will be competitive with any place you may shop in the "Western New York area."

So let's get off our rear and work together. We will show the rest of the people what can be done if we pool our resources and build our own.

Once again, I ask, please do yourself, your children, and the community a favor and patronize this market at 293 E. Ferry. The money you spend in this market will be posted each Monday at 3:00 P.M. on the bulletin board.
